1. Background

Introduction

- 1.1 Although many people are not aware of it, planning affects their lives each and every day; it determines where we live, where we work, where we shop, where we play and how we get around. It also helps to protect and enhance the natural and historic environment.
- 1.2 Pendle's communities are not only made-up of local residents, but people who regularly visit from outside the immediate area such as students, workers and tourists, each of which have their own views on how the borough should change for the better.
- 1.3 Given the wide ranging influence of planning, it is important that the local community is encouraged to actively participate in the preparation of new planning policy and provided with the opportunity to comment on new policy documents and applications for development.

What Is the Statement of Community Involvement?

- 1.4 The Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) shows how you can become involved in the preparation of new planning policy and comment on planning applications. To do this it sets-out how Pendle Council will seek to engage with interested parties so they can influence those decisions that will help to shape the future of the borough.
- 1.5 The requirement to produce the Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) is included in the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004. Pendle Council's first SCI was adopted on 29th March 2007. This review is necessary to address the significant changes to the planning system that have occurred in response to the introduction of the following government legislation and guidance:
- April 2010            The Community Infrastructure Levy Regulations 2010
  - November 2011    Localism Act 2011
  - April 2012            Town & Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012
                              The Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012
  - March 2012            National Planning Policy Framework
  - May 2013             The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development)
                              (Amendment) (England) Order 2013
  - March 2014            National Planning Practice Guidance
  - April 2015             The Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015
- 1.6 This update reflects these legislative and policy changes and seeks to:
- make clear when and how stakeholders<sup>1</sup> can expect to be asked to participate in the preparation of new planning policy;
  - establish what is expected of applicants before they apply for planning permission; and
  - set the standard for good practice in community engagement for those with an interest in future growth and development in Pendle.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement in Planning 1st Revision

---

- 1.7 In addition to the changes in legislation, experience has demonstrated which methods of stakeholder and public engagement have proved to be most effective in Pendle and revealed those that have met with limited success.
- 1.8 Furthermore, the emergence of social media channels such as Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn have opened up new avenues for publicity, which also need to be reflected in the SCI.

- 1.9 This update of the SCI takes on board these new legislative requirements and provides the Council with a valuable opportunity to reflect 'best practice' and build on the experience gained since the adoption of the previous SCI in 2007.

2. The Planning System

Introduction

- 2.1 Planning (also known as town and country planning, spatial planning or urban planning) is concerned with how land is used. How we manage the environment in which we live, both physically and aesthetically, is important to our future well-being.
- 2.2 In the current 'plan-led system' the planning process is essentially made-up of two complimentary functions:
1. Planning Policy (also known as forward planning) is concerned with planning positively for future growth and development. In preparing the Local Plan (the local component of the Development Plan) we are seeking to balance physical development against other social, economic and environmental needs, within the parameters established by government legislation and national planning policy.
  2. Development Management, in its simplest form, is concerned with the assessment and determination of applications for planning permission. But each decision helps to shape the future development of our local community. Planning applications are therefore granted, or refused, in accordance with the Development Plan and other material considerations.
- 2.3 Given the potential impact of decisions taken within the sphere of planning, it is only right that members of the public, and any commercial or voluntary organisations with business interests in the area, are:
- encouraged to actively participate in the preparation of the Local Plan and other development plan documents from the outset, before any decisions have been taken; and
  - provided with adequate opportunity to comment on the proposed content of such documents (DPDs) and any applications for development.

Recent Changes

- 2.4 There have been significant changes to the planning system in recent years, primarily targeted at speeding up the planning approval process and preventing any unnecessary delay to development.
- 2.5 New Government proposals are introduced through a combination of:
- Legislation: A legal directive, which must be complied with in order to remain within the law (i.e. a statutory requirement).
  - Policy: Sets-out what the Government intends to do to comply with any legislation introduced by itself or the European Union.
  - Guidance: intended to offer a detailed interpretation of exactly what is required by national policy.
  - Regulations: These set-out specific details on how any requirements introduced through legislation or policy should be implemented in practice.

Legislation

- 2.6 The Localism Act 2011 introduced the ‘Duty to Co-operate’ which requires local planning authorities to work with their neighbours and other ‘prescribed bodies’ on strategic cross-boundary issues.
- 2.7 The Duty to Cooperate was introduced by Section 33(A) of the Localism Act to ensure that strategic matters continue to be addressed on a cross-boundary basis, following the demise of regional planning.
- 2.8 In the context of preparing a Local Plan a strategic matter is “the sustainable development or use of land that would have a significant impact on at least two planning areas” and “in a two-tier area if the development or use is a county matter, or would have a significant impact on a county matter.”
- 2.9 Specifically the Duty requires local planning authorities to:
- engage constructively, actively and on an ongoing basis with any local planning authority, or other prescribed body<sup>2</sup>, potentially affected by a strategic matter; and
  - to develop strategic planning policies to address such issues and consider joint approaches to plan making.

Policy & Guidance

- 2.10 The National Planning Policy Framework (often referred to as the NPPF, or simply The Framework) sets out the government’s planning policies for England and how they are expected to be applied. Launched on 27th March 2012, it is a key part of the government’s reforms to make the planning system less complex and more accessible. This 59 page document replaced thousands of pages of policy, previously contained in 44 planning policy statements (PPS) and planning policy guidance notes (PPG), vastly simplifying the information about planning.
- 2.11 The NPPF acts as guidance for local planning authorities and decision-takers, both in drawing up plans and making decisions about planning applications. It encourages early engagement with key stakeholders and formal public consultation at key stages in the preparation of new planning policy documents and before a decision is made on planning applications.<sup>3</sup>
- 2.12 Ministers launched new online Planning Practice Guidance on 6th March 2014. This new online resource replaced technical guidance which had previously been catalogued in 230 separate documents and at 7,000 pages was often complex and repetitive. The streamlined information is intended to be easier to keep up to date and offer much needed simplicity and clarity to the planning system. The user friendly format is intended to make planning guidance more accessible and bring about better community involvement, by giving power back to local communities.
- 2.13 The Framework and planning practice guidance can both be accessed via the following weblink:
 <http://planningguidance.communities.gov.uk/>

<sup>2</sup> The list of prescribed bodies is set-out in Regulation 4 of The Town and Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012, as amended

Regulations

- 2.14 The Town & Country Planning (Local Planning) (England) Regulations 2012 and The Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012, both came into force on 6th April 2012. These documents set-out how the Local Plan, Neighbourhood Plans and other planning policy documents must be prepared.
- 2.15 The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) (Amendment) (England) Order 2013 and The Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015, have been introduced to help speed up the determination of planning applications. Together they have removed the requirement to obtain planning permission for some forms of minor development and simplified the procedures for others.

The Development Plan

- 2.16 To ensure that the decision taken by a planning officer (to grant or refuse an application for planning permission) is rational and consistent, it must be considered against the policies in the development plan.
- 2.17 The development plan is a set of statutory<sup>4</sup> documents which set-out the policies, proposals and site specific allocations that are used to guide the nature and location of development in a particular area.
- 2.18 In Pendle, the development plan contains development plan documents (DPDs) from the emerging Pendle Local Plan and the Joint Lancashire Minerals and Waste Local Plan, together with any Neighbourhood Plans that may be produced in the future (Figure 2.1).

Table 2.1: The Development Plan for Pendle, January 2015

Neighbourhood Plans	Barrowford Neighbourhood Plan	TBC

<sup>4</sup> Statutory law is written law, set down by a legislature and may originate with national or local government.

- 2.19 When deciding whether a planning application addresses the requirements of the Development Plan, planning officers in the Council's Development Management team will consider the following:
- (a) The number, size, layout, siting and external appearance of buildings.
  - (b) The available infrastructure – e.g. roads, education, water supply and proposed means of access.
  - (c) Any landscaping requirements.
  - (d) The proposed use of the development.
  - (e) The likely impact on the surrounding area.
- 2.20 National planning policies are also a material consideration.

Development Plan Documents

- 2.21 As their name suggests, development plan documents form (DPDs) form part of the statutory development plan and are, therefore, a primary consideration in decisions on a planning application, unless material considerations indicate otherwise. As such they are subject to rigorous consultation procedures, sustainability appraisal and independent examination. DPDs can only be adopted once the inspector appointed by the Government to oversee the examination has issued his/her binding report.
- 2.22 The accompanying Policies Map (formerly known as the Proposals Map) shows the geographical area(s) where a particular policy is applicable; illustrates any areas afforded protection through planning policy (e.g. open space, conservation areas etc.) and identifies key sites for future development (e.g. housing and employment). The online version of the map may be updated from time to time as new information becomes available (e.g. flood zones).
- 2.23 The preparation of any DPD is an iterative process; where ongoing informal engagement with key stakeholders, together with formal public consultation, help to inform early drafts of the document. The final draft is then subject to independent examination by an Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State. A DPD can only be adopted by the Council if found to be sound at Examination.
- 2.24 The Local Plan is the keystone of the local planning system. Prepared by Pendle Council in cooperation with the local community, it sets-out an overall vision for future development and growth in the area and the strategic policies to help deliver this vision. When adopted it is the principal consideration against which planning applications are determined.
- 2.25 Pendle Council is committed to preparing a new Local Plan for the district at the earliest opportunity. Until this can be adopted by Pendle Council planning decisions in the Borough will be guided by a mixture of saved policies from the Replacement Pendle Local Plan 2001-2016 and newer policies from adopted DPDs (e.g. Bradley Area Action Plan), insofar as they are compliant with the NPPF (see Figure 2.1).
- 2.26 A new two-part Local Plan is currently in preparation. The Core Strategy, which represents the first part of the new Pendle Local Plan, was submitted to the Secretary of State for examination on Friday 19th December 2014.

---

- 2.27 Work on the Site Allocations & Development Policies DPD (i.e. part two) will re-commence in late 2015. This document will designate specific areas of land for future development (e.g. housing and employment) and include detailed policies that will help to ensure that as new buildings are constructed, Pendle maintains the right mix of homes, workspaces, shops and public open space to meet the needs of residents and businesses; that new buildings respect the heritage of the area and that any impact on transport and the environment can be managed effectively.
- 2.28 The Local Plan is the key local component of the development plan (see above), but other DPDs may be prepared, as needed (Figure 2.1).
- 2.29 For example, in Pendle, the Bradley Area Action Plan was adopted in July 2011, to help guide urban regeneration initiatives within an inner urban area of Nelson.

Supplementary Planning Documents

- 2.30 Supplementary Planning Documents (SPDs) offer additional information and guidance on thematic or site specific issues, in order to help with the interpretation and implementation of policies and strategies set-out in a 'parent DPD'. They cannot be used to allocate land or introduce new planning policies.
- 2.31 Although SPDs go through public consultation procedures and sustainability appraisal, they are not subject to independent examination and do not form part of the Development Plan. However, the information contained in an SPD may be an important consideration in the determination of an application for planning permission.
- 2.32 Pendle Council has adopted four SPDs (Figure 2.2), with a fifth due to be prepared in the coming years.

Table 2.2: Supplementary Planning Documents (Pendle Local Plan), January 2015

Document Title		Date of Adoption
1.	Brierfield Canal Corridor Housing Brief SPD	27th October 2005
2.	Conservation Area Design and Development Guidance SPD	14th August 2008
3.	Design Principles SPD	10th December 2009
4.	Brierfield Railway Street Area SPD	9th December 2010
5.	Development in the Open Countryside and AONB	TBC

- 2.33 A number of SPDs have also been prepared by Lancashire County Council, in conjunction with the unitary authorities of Blackpool Borough Council and Blackburn-with-Darwen Borough Council, to support policies in the Joint Lancashire Minerals and Waste Local Plan.

Neighbourhood Plans

- 2.34 In 2011 the Localism Act introduced new rights and powers allowing communities to help shape future development in their areas by coming together to prepare Neighbourhood Development Plans (commonly referred to simply as Neighbourhood Plans).

- 2.35 As they will form part of the development plan, Neighbourhood Plans must:
- have regard to national planning policy;
  - be in general conformity with strategic policies in the development plan for the local area (i.e. the core strategy)
  - be compatible with EU obligations and human rights requirements.
- 2.36 The preparation of Neighbourhood Plans is governed by specific legislation in The Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012.
- 2.37 Pendle is fully parished, so any Neighbourhood Plan must be initiated through the relevant parish or town council. If the proposed plan does not cover the whole of their area, a 'neighbourhood forum' may be established to produce the plan.
- 2.38 The local community should be actively engaged in the preparation of a Neighbourhood Plan, and must be given the opportunity to comment on the final draft. This is then subject to independent examination. If the examiner recommends that the plan can proceed, Pendle Council will organise and pay for a public referendum. The plan must then be accepted by a majority of the votes cast before it can be adopted by the local planning authority and become part of the development plan for Pendle.

Supporting Documents

- 2.39 Government and European Union regulations require local planning authorities to produce a number of documents to help inform the preparation of Local Plan documents.

Submission Documents

- 2.40 Sustainability appraisal (SA) is a mandatory and integral element of the plan-making process. Its purpose is to identify the potential for any adverse impacts and explore how these might be avoided or reduced, or where this is not possible, how mitigation measures may help to moderate their effect.
- 2.41 Before proceeding with a full Sustainability Appraisal, it is important to prepare a Scoping Report for the Sustainability Appraisal. This report provides the basis for engagement with the three statutory bodies – Historic England, Natural England and the Environment Agency – to ensure consensus on the scope of the SA.
- 2.42 The scoping report sets out the process by which the policies and proposals in the Local Plan are to be appraised in order to ensure that they contribute to the aims of sustainable development. The proposed methodology should include an assessment of other plans and programmes relevant to the plan; the collection of baseline information; the identification of social, environmental and economic issues; and the development of a range of objectives and suitable indicators which can be used as a framework for the full sustainability appraisal, if required.
- 2.43 Where scoping determines that a full sustainability appraisal is required, the process must take full account of the EU Directive on Strategic Environmental Assessment (SEA), which is required by European and UK law. SEA is the recognised method for systematically identifying and evaluating the impacts that a plan is likely to have on the environment. When combined with a full sustainability appraisal it helps to improve policies and ensure that they reflect sustainable development principles.

- 2.44 The Sustainability Appraisal (SA) Report considers the environmental, social and economic impacts of the policies and proposals contained in a DPD or SPD; both alone and in combination with other plans and strategies, and evaluates these against all realistic alternatives.
- 2.45 Regulation 61 of the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010 (as amended) requires an Appropriate Assessment to be carried out for any plan or project which, either alone or in combination with other plans or projects, is likely to have a significant effect on the nature conservation objectives of a European Site.<sup>5</sup> The Habitats Regulations Assessment Scoping Report, which is consulted upon with Natural England, helps to determine if such an assessment is required.
- 2.46 The requirement to publish a Consultation Statement is a reflection of the Government's desire to strengthen both stakeholder and community involvement in the planning process.
- 2.47 The Regulations only require a Consultation Statement to be produced to accompany any DPD submitted to the Secretary of State (Regulation 22) in order to demonstrate
- which bodies and persons were invited to make representations under Regulations 18 and 19 (Regulation 12 for a Supplementary Planning Document);
  - how these bodies and persons were invited to make such representations;
  - a summary of the main issues raised by those representations; and
  - how those main issues have been addressed in the document.
- 2.48 To provide transparency throughout the plan making process, Pendle Council has chosen to publish a Consultation Statement following each formal public consultation and make it available for inspection. The statement describes how those organisations with an active interest in the area together with members of the local community have been engaged in the preparation of a particular plan and shows how their comments have helped to shape successive versions of that document.
- 2.49 For SPDs the Consultation Statement should be available for public inspection during the formal public participation stage (Regulation 12).
- 2.50 Each of the above documents will be subject to public consultation alongside the corresponding DPD or SPD, when prepared.

Other Supporting Documents

- 2.51 Although there is no statutory requirement to do so, many local planning authorities also prepare a number of other documents, to demonstrate compliance with legal requirements.
- 2.52 Since the introduction of the Duty to Cooperate in April 2011, many local planning authorities have produced a Statement of Compliance with the Duty to Cooperate, to show how they have cooperated with neighbouring authorities and other prescribed bodies to address cross boundary issues.

<sup>5</sup> European sites are defined by Regulation 10 of the Habitats Regulations and include sites designated as Special Areas of Conservation (SACs) or classified as Special Protection Areas (SPAs).

- 2.53 To help demonstrate that a submitted DPD is both legally compliant and sound, Pendle Council has also elected to complete the Legal Compliance and Soundness Toolkits prepared by the Planning Advisory Service (PAS).
- 2.54 It is increasingly considered to be good practice to assess the potential impact plans and policies may have on equalities and health. This is achieved through a process known as impact assessment.
- 2.55 Equality Impact Assessment (EqIA) aims to prevent discrimination against people who are categorised as being disadvantaged or vulnerable within society. These categories are called equality target groups and are currently designated as being:
- women;
  - black, Asian and ethnic-minority people;
  - young people and children;
  - older people;
  - disabled people;
  - lesbian people, gay people, bisexual people and transsexual people; and
  - people from different faith groups.
- 2.56 Health Impact Assessment (HIA) judges potential effects on the health of a population, and the distribution of those effects within the population.
- 2.57 Where an EqIA or HIA has been prepared, it too will be subject to public consultation alongside the corresponding DPD or SPD.

Evidence Base Documents

- 2.58 The evidence base underpinning new planning policy is also subject to public scrutiny. All documents prepared or commissioned by the Council will be approved through its committee system. Some documents will also be subject to public consultation either independently, or alongside the relevant DPD or SPD.
- 2.59 Key evidence base documents for the Pendle Local Plan include:

Housing

- Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA)
- Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment (SHLAA)
- Gypsy & Traveller Accommodation Assessment (GTAA)

Employment

- Employment Land Review (ELR)
- Retail Capacity Study (RCS)

Infrastructure and the Environment

- Infrastructure Development Strategy (IDS)
- Development Viability Study (DVS)
- Strategic Flood Risk Assessment (SFRA)
- Green Infrastructure Strategy (GIS) and/or Open Space Audit (OSA)

Process Documents

- 2.60 Three documents (including the SCI) help to provide clarity and accountability for the decisions taken in the preparation of new planning policy and in the implementation of existing planning policy.
- 2.61 Whilst the SCI is subject to public consultation, it is no longer tested through an independent Examination. The two remaining process documents (discussed below) do not require public consultation, but their content is formally approved through the Council's committee process.

Local Development Scheme

- 2.62 A Local Development Scheme (LDS) is required under Section 15 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (as amended by the Localism Act 2011). It is a three-year project plan covering the preparation of new Local Plan documents and providing a summary of those that have already been adopted. It has three main purposes:
- To inform interested parties about the development plan documents (DPDs) that will make up the new Pendle Local Plan and any supplementary planning documents (SPDs) that will provide further detailed guidance on the policies within them.
  - To set out the timescales the public can expect for the preparation and review of these DPDs.<sup>6</sup>
  - To establish and reflect council priorities, enabling a work programme to be set for the preparation of these planning documents.
- 2.63 The LDS also demonstrates how the Council's planning policies address a particular place or issue, and the current status of these policies. It must be made available publically and kept up-to-date, so that the local community and other interested parties can keep track of progress on the preparation of the Local Plan.

Authority's Monitoring Report

- 2.64 Formerly known as the Annual Monitoring Report, the Authority's Monitoring Report (AMR) must be prepared and published as soon as practicable after the close of the monitoring year on 31st March.
- 2.65 The AMR monitors the progress being made on the preparation of new policy documents, against the timetable set out in the LDS, and records the usage and effectiveness of existing planning policies.
- 2.66 The AMR is the main mechanism for reviewing the relevance of Local Plan policies and for identifying any changes that may be necessary.

Community Infrastructure Levy

- 2.67 The Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) is a new charge that local planning authorities in England and Wales can apply to new developments in their area to fund a wide range of infrastructure that is needed as a result of development. The system is intended to be more transparent than its predecessor in that it gives councils the freedom to set their own priorities for what the money raised should be spent on and provides developers with certainty about how much money they will be expected to contribute.

<sup>6</sup> The timetable includes "consultation milestones" to indicate when there are opportunities for both informal and formal engagement in the plan making process.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement in Planning 1st Revision

- 2.68 CIL will not pay for all infrastructure requirements, but will make a significant contribution. Core funding from central government will still be the primary source of funding for infrastructure.
- 2.69 Under the Community Infrastructure Levy (Amendment) Regulations 2014, councils can elect to introduce a CIL Charging Schedule to help deliver the infrastructure necessary to support development in the area. The charges are set by the local council, based on the size and type of the new development.
- 2.70 The Government recognises that the available data is unlikely to be fully comprehensive. A charging authority must use 'appropriate available evidence' (as defined in the Planning Act 2008 section 211(7A)) to inform their draft charging schedule.
- 2.71 Local communities receiving new development can be rewarded through the direct allocation of a proportion of levy funds collected in their area – 15% or 25% depending on whether a Neighbourhood Plan is in place.
- 2.72 Whilst it is for Pendle Council to determine the merits of introducing a CIL Charging Schedule, the Pendle Development Viability Study (Colliers International, 2013) concludes that "given the costs of introducing and administering it and the very limited types of development on which CIL could be levied, the benefits are likely to be very negligible or nil in current economic conditions."
- 2.73 Faced with concerns about development viability (see inset), following the post 2007 economic recession, Pendle Council resolved not to prepare a CIL Charging Schedule. However, it may choose to do so in the future as viability improves and there is sufficient information and evidence available to demonstrate that:
1. CIL will have a positive economic effect.
  2. CIL is required to fund new infrastructure provision.
  3. The proposed CIL Rates will not threaten viability and delivery of the Local Plan objectives (to comply with paragraph 173 of the NPPF).

3. Participation and Consultation in Plan Making

Introduction

- 3.1 There are a number of stages involved in the preparation of Local Plan documents. These stages are required by Government legislation and planning regulations. They are designed to ensure that the process is as open and transparent as possible.
- 3.2 Figure 3.1 (Page 19) illustrates the key stages in the production of Local Plan documents. The preparation of Neighbourhood Plans is governed by specific legislation and this process is considered separately.
- 3.3 To encourage early involvement in the plan making process, the Council will seek to front-load its programme of public consultation and stakeholder engagement, to help ensure that your views have the greatest chance of being taken into account.

Which Documents Are Subject To Consultation?

- 3.4 Pendle Council is committed to involving all interested parties in the development of new planning policy for the borough and will consult extensively in the preparation of new planning policy, and will consult on the following types of document:

Table 3.1: Planning documents subject to public consultation

Type of Document	Reason for consultation
1. Development Plan Document (DPD) <sup>1</sup>	Statutory requirement
2. Supplementary Planning Document (SPD)	Statutory requirement
3. Supporting Document	Statutory requirement
4. Evidence Base Document	Good Practice
5. Process Document	Statutory requirement <sup>2</sup> / Good Practice
6. Neighbourhood Plan <sup>1</sup>	Statutory requirement
7. CIL Charging Schedule <sup>1</sup>	Statutory requirement

- 3.5 Policy documents that will form part of the development plan for the borough (i.e. the Local Plan and any Neighbourhood Plans), together with the charging Schedule for the Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL), are subject to independent examination. This will normally include a series of informal Hearing Sessions chaired by an independent Planning Inspector, where people will be able to speak if they have made a formal representation at the Publication stage of the consultation process.

- 3.6 The Local Development Scheme (LDS) shows which Local Plan documents (DPDs and SPDs) the Council intends to produce and when.<sup>7</sup> It also identifies when any informal engagement or formal public consultation is anticipated to take place. Inevitably, as time passes by, there will also be a need to update existing documents or produce new ones which have not previously been identified. Updated information will be published in future editions of the LDS.
- 3.7 Whilst the formal approach to preparing DPDs and SPDs may be different, both follow an iterative process.<sup>8</sup> In both instances the principle of early and ongoing engagement with key stakeholders followed by wider scrutiny through one, or more, public consultations remains the same. In the case of DPDs these stages are then followed by an independent Examination conducted by an Inspector appointed by the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government. This is also true for the CIL Charging Schedule.
- 3.8 Supporting documents, such as the Sustainability Appraisal Report, are also made available for public comment. Normally such documents form part of the public consultation carried out, for each iteration of their parent DPD or SPD. This is often true for evidence base documents, although these may be also made available for public comment independently at key stages in their preparation (e.g. to establish an agreed methodology, consider interim results etc.).

Who We Will Engage With

- 3.9 Local residents and other key stakeholders will be invited to participate in the preparation of each of the Local Plan documents that the Council elects to produce.
- 3.10 Details of who the Council will consult are held on its planning policy database. Any individual or organisation can ask for their contact details to be included on this database, in order to be kept informed about emerging planning policy and to receive advance notice of forthcoming public consultations associated with the preparation of new Local Plan documents.
- 3.11 Provided that they are not a prescribed body or specific consultation body (see below), individuals or organisations can request that their details are removed from the database at any time.
- 3.12 By law Pendle Council must consult certain organisations. These are specified in the Localism Act 2011 [“The Act”] and the Town & Country Planning (Local Planning) England Regulations, 2012, as amended [“The Regulations”]. A full list of the organisations contacted by Pendle Council at various stages in the plan making process is contained in Appendix 1, but those we are required to consult with (i.e. statutory consultees) are briefly considered below.

Specific Consultation Bodies

- 3.13 The Regulations includes a list of ‘specific consultation bodies’ that must be consulted in the preparation of a Local Plan. There is some overlap between the bodies identified in this list (Regulation 2) and those prescribed for the purposes of the Duty to Cooperate (see below).

<sup>7</sup> The Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) has not been regarded as a DPD since the introduction of the 2009 Regulations, which removed the duty to submit it to the Secretary of State.<sup>7</sup> As a consequence the SCI is no longer identified in the LDS.

<sup>8</sup> Iteration is the act of repeating a process with the aim of approaching a desired goal, target or result.

- 3.14 Responses to the Government’s ‘Red Tape Challenge’ have highlighted that the list of specific consultation bodies is considered to be “too long” and that several “regularly fail to engage in the plan making process” because they are poorly resourced to do so. Despite these concerns there have been no changes to the list specific consultation bodies since the latest version of The Regulations came into force on 12th November 2012.

General Consultation Bodies

- 3.15 Regulation 2 identifies those ‘general consultation bodies’ who should be consulted during the plan making process and, where appropriate, actively engaged in the preparation of Local Plan documents. These are defined as follows:
- (a) voluntary bodies some or all of whose activities benefit any part of the authority’s area,
  - (b) bodies which represent the interests of different racial, ethnic or national groups in the authority’s area,
  - (c) bodies which represent the interests of different religious groups in the authority’s area,
  - (d) bodies which represent the interests of disabled persons in the authority’s area,
  - (e) bodies which represent the interests of persons carrying on business in the authority’s area.

Prescribed Bodies (Duty to Cooperate)

- 3.16 The Duty to Cooperate (DTC) was established in the Localism Act 2011, and amends Section 33 of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004. It places a legal duty on local planning authorities, county councils in England and public bodies to engage constructively, actively and on an ongoing basis to maximise the effectiveness of Local Plan preparation in the context of strategic cross boundary matters. And, whilst it is not a duty to agree, it is necessary to demonstrate at Examination that every effort has been made to secure cooperation on strategic cross boundary matters. Regulation 4 sets out the bodies prescribed for the purposes of Section 33A(1)(c) of The Act.

When We Will Engage With You

(a) Development Plan Documents & CIL Charging Schedule

Introduction

- 3.17 Tables 3.1 and 3.2 set out the different stages in the preparation of DPDs and SPDs respectively and highlight the opportunities for involvement. These different stages are discussed in more detail below and summarised in Figure 3.1.
- 3.18 The process for preparing and adopting a CIL Charging Schedule is very similar to that for a DPD and is set out in Table 3.3. However, the process for preparing a Neighbourhood Plan is quite different, with public consultation and engagement being led by both the Council and the body preparing the plan document at different stages. This process is discussed separately.

Figure 3.1: Key Stages in the Preparation of New Planning Policy Documents

Notes:

- Public consultation (statutory)
- Public consultation (optional)
- Other key stage

[1] Town and Country Planning (Local Development)(England) Regulations 2012, as amended

[2] Community Infrastructure Levy Regulations 2010, as amended

[3] Includes engagement with key stakeholders to establish the scope and content of the proposed document.

[4] Complex documents may also require one or more formal public consultations to: explore the key 'Issues and Options'; assess any 'Reasonable Alternatives'; and consider the Council's 'Preferred Option'.

[5] Including public consultation on any proposed 'Main Modifications' to the DPD; arising from the Examination.

Preparation

- 3.19 Before starting work on writing a new Local Plan, or any other DPD, Regulations 18(1) and 18(2) require a local planning authority (such as Pendle Council) to contact those specific and general consultation bodies, which it considers may have an interest in the proposed subject matter, and such residents or other persons carrying on business in the area, from which the Council considers it appropriate to invite representations, in order to:
- (a) notify them of its intention to prepare such a document; and
  - (b) invite them to comment on what it should contain.
- 3.20 This stage is not required for an SPD, as these documents normally expand upon, or offer further detail to, higher level policy (i.e. one within a DPD); or provide detailed guidance that is site specific (e.g. a development brief) or is concerned with a particular topic area (e.g. design guide).
- 3.21 Having established the content and scope of the DPD or SPD, the next stage is to gather evidence to inform the identification of issues and the development of options. This may involve the preparation of several evidence base documents.
- 3.22 The requirement to conduct a further public consultation to consider the Council's 'preferred option' is no longer prescribed in The Regulations. However, a number of draft documents may be produced to encourage participation and stimulate further debate. In particular, careful consideration of the reasonable alternatives will help to shape the emerging plan by moving towards an agreed position.
- 3.23 Comments on a draft document will be requested within a specified period; not normally less than six weeks. Any representations received in response to a formal public consultation will be carefully considered by officers of the Council, before moving on to the next stage.
- 3.24 Although not required by The Regulations at this stage, for clarity and transparency Pendle Council will publish a 'consultation statement' to describe the nature of any public engagement that has previously taken place by setting-out:
- which bodies and persons were invited to make representations;
  - how these bodies and persons were invited to make such representations;
  - a summary of the main issues raised by those representations; and
  - how those main issues have been addressed.
- 3.25 By the end of the 'preparation stage' members of the local community and other key stakeholders that have an interest in the document should have had the opportunity to get involved and have their views taken into account.

Public Participation and Publication

- 3.26 Before proceeding with the adoption of a SPD, a statutory public consultation of not less than four weeks is required by Regulations 12 and 13.
- 3.27 After careful consideration of the comments made in response to this public consultation, and making any changes to the document that are considered to be necessary, an SPD will normally move straight to adoption (paragraph 3.44).

- 3.28 In contrast DPDs must be examined by an independent planning inspector, as they establish the strategic planning policies that will guide future development in the area, and provide the basis for determining planning applications. Before submitting what is considered to be the final version of the plan (i.e. the Publication or Pre-Submission Report) to the Secretary of State for examination, a statutory public consultation of not less than six weeks is required by Regulations 19, 20 and 35. The purpose of this consultation is not to further refine the strategy or policies, but to comment on whether the:
- (i) process followed in the preparation of the document is legally compliant; and
  - (ii) document is considered to be sound.
- 3.29 There is no legal definition of ‘sound’, but in this context it is used to mean ‘showing good judgment’ and ‘able to be trusted’. To be considered sound, in accordance with paragraph 182 of the NPPF, a plan must be:
1. Positively prepared – the plan should be prepared based on a strategy which seeks to meet objectively assessed development and infrastructure requirements, including unmet requirements from neighbouring authorities where it is reasonable to do so and consistent with achieving sustainable development;
  2. Justified – the plan should be the most appropriate strategy, when considered against the reasonable alternatives, based on proportionate evidence;
  3. Effective – the plan should be deliverable over its period and based on effective joint working on cross-boundary strategic priorities; and
  4. Consistent with national policy – the plan should enable the delivery of sustainable development in accordance with the policies in the Framework.
- 3.30 Any representations submitted at this stage will be considered by the Inspector appointed to conduct the independent Examination, rather than the Council. However, the Council should only submit a plan that it considers to be sound for Examination. If any representations raise an issue that has not previously been considered, and would require a significant change to the DPD, the Council may need to re-publish and consult once again on a revised version of the document (Regulation 19), or even go-back a stage if new options need to be considered (Regulation 18).
- 3.31 In addition to a copy of the DPD (and policies map where appropriate), the accompanying sustainability appraisal report and a consultation statement must also be made available for public consultation.

Submission

- 3.32 Following the conclusion of the Publication stage, the Council will submit the DPD to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government. Regulation 22 requires the following ‘submission documents’ to accompany the DPD.
- (a) the sustainability appraisal report
  - (b) a submission policies map
  - (c) a consultation statement
  - (d) copies of any representations made at the Publication stage (i.e. in accordance with Regulation 20)
  - (e) any supporting documents considered to be relevant to the preparation of the plan.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement in Planning 1st Revision

---

- 3.33 Although it is the Inspector appointed to conduct the Examination (see below), rather than the Council, that will consider the representations made at the Publication stage, the Council is able to recommend minor changes in the form of a Schedule of Proposed Modifications. This will be updated throughout the examination process.

Examination

- 3.34 The Examination starts on the date of submission. On receipt of the DPD and supporting documents the Secretary of State will request the Planning Inspectorate to appoint an Inspector to conduct an independent Examination.
- 3.35 Early in the Examination, the Inspector will prepare and circulate an initial Guidance Note, which will outline the procedures to be followed in the examination and in preparation for any hearing sessions. The issuing of this note usually eliminates the need for a Pre-Hearing Meeting and helps everyone to better understand the procedures.
- 3.36 If no-one exercises their right to speak the Inspector, may choose to deal with the whole examination by written representations. However, it is more likely that one or more hearing sessions will be held.
- 3.37 Hearing Sessions allow the Inspector to hold in-depth discussions on a range of issues in a fairly relaxed atmosphere. Occasionally, where there are strongly opposed views on matters within the DPD, the evidence may need to be tested more formally, with the relevant people putting their case forward with the help of legal representation. Anyone who submitted a representation against the soundness of the plan at the Publication stage can exercise their right to be heard.
- 3.38 In assessing the DPD, the Inspector will need to use his or her professional judgement based on the evidence available. If the Inspector is not satisfied that he or she has enough information to determine whether the document is sound, he or she may ask the Council to carry out more work before the examination can be completed. The Inspector may also want more details of the matters raised during the examination, and will set a timetable for receiving that information, before making his or her report available.
- 3.39 The length of the examination will vary according to how complicated the document is and the number and nature of the representations made. The hearings sessions will usually take no more than 8 days. The overall examination process will be around six months for most DPDs.
- 3.40 Approximately 12-14 weeks after the final hearing session the Inspector will issue a report on the soundness of the plan. The authority must publish the Inspector's recommendations and tell those people who asked to be informed of its publication. Should the DPD be found to be sound, or capable of being so with some modification, the local planning authority can progress to adoption.
- 3.41 The Inspector has no power to recommend improvements to the plan. In many instances representations are made about matters that do not undermine the soundness of the DPD. The Inspector will not make recommendations about these matters even if he or she feels that the representation is well founded.

- 3.42 The Inspectors Report will only make recommendations on the ‘main modifications’ necessary to make a DPD sound where requested to do so by the local planning authority. The Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act requires the Inspector’s report to make explicit that the plan as submitted for examination (i.e. without these ‘main modifications’) should not be adopted and gives reasons why this is the case.
- 3.43 Any main modifications recommended by the Inspector will be subject to a period of public consultation. Before the Council can proceed to adoption, the DPD will need to incorporate these main modifications in order to comply with statutory requirements. However, there is no legal requirement for the local planning authority to adopt the DPD.

Adoption

- 3.44 Adoption will require a formal resolution at a meeting of the Full Council, which meets every three months in Pendle.
- 3.45 The adopted document, along with the recommendations of the Inspector will be published and publicised at this stage.

Judicial Review

- 3.46 Any person may challenge an adopted development plan document if they do not think that it meets the conditions of the relevant legislation. Applications must be made to the High Court within six weeks of the date of the authority advertising that the development plan document has been adopted. You should get legal advice before starting this process.

(b) Neighbourhood Plans

Introduction

- 3.48 The Government has provided new powers to local communities enabling them to produce planning documents known as Neighbourhood Development Plans – more commonly referred to simply as Neighbourhood Plans. When adopted, they become part of the development plan for their area and used by planning officers in the determination of planning applications.

Preparation

- 3.49 Neighbourhood Plans are prepared by the local community, with the Council responsible for:
- Providing advice and assistance to the body preparing a neighbourhood plan, subject to the availability of resources.
  - Carrying out the appropriate checks to ensure that the submitted plan meets basic conditions and legal requirements.
  - Making arrangements for the independent examination of the plan;
  - Making the plan (i.e. adopting it through the Council’s formal committee process) subject to the results of a local referendum.
- 3.50 As Pendle is fully parished, any proposal for a Neighbourhood Plan must be initiated through the relevant parish or town council. If the proposed plan does not cover the whole of their area, a ‘neighbourhood forum’ may be established to produce the plan. [N.B. Rather than continually reference parish councils, town councils and neighbourhood forums, they are referred to as the neighbourhood planning body or “NPB” in the remainder of this section].
- 3.51 The NPB takes responsibility on behalf of the local community for producing and consulting on a neighbourhood plan, and may qualify for grant funding or secure business sponsorship to help with its preparation.<sup>10</sup>

Public Participation and Publication

- 3.52 The preparation of the Neighbourhood Plan (see Figure 3.2) should be publicised widely to bring it to the attention of people who live, work or carry out business in the area. The consultation methods to be used are not specified, but should facilitate continuous and meaningful involvement of the whole community. This should be based on a clear strategy and fully explained in the consultation statement.
- 3.53 Whilst there are no statutory consultees, a list of consultation bodies that should be consulted, if the plan affects them, is provided in Schedule 1 of The Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012. Pendle Council will provide the NPB with contact details for these consultees.
- 3.54 Once a neighbourhood plan has been written, the NPB must publicise and consult on the pre-submission draft for a minimum of six weeks, and invite stakeholders and the community to make representations (Regulation 15).

<sup>10</sup> The Localism Act 2011 also promotes Neighbourhood Development Orders, which grant planning permission for certain uses within a specified area. The preparation, consultation, publication, examination and adoption of these reflect the stages for a Neighbourhood Plan, although the consultation bodies are defined differently in The Neighbourhood Planning (General) Regulations 2012 (Schedule 1, paragraph 2)

---

- 3.55 Following this consultation the NPB should make any changes to the plan that it considers necessary, before submitting the plan, all supporting documents and any representations received to Pendle Council for publication. The key supporting documents are a statement explaining how the plan meets the basic conditions<sup>11</sup> and a consultation statement setting out the nature of the public consultation and engagement carried out in the preparation of the plan.
- 3.56 Upon receipt Pendle Council needs to satisfy itself that the plan complies with the relevant statutory requirements; before making this version of the plan available for a further six week public consultation (Regulation 16).

Examination and Referendum

- 3.57 Following this consultation the NPB and Pendle Council jointly appoint a suitably qualified person to conduct an independent examination of the plan. Pendle Council is then responsible for sending a copy of the plan, all supporting documents and any representations received in response to the public consultation (held in accordance with Regulation 16) to the examiner, and for arranging and paying for the examination (Regulation 17).
- 3.58 As soon as possible after the conclusion of the examination, the examiner will issue a formal report to Pendle Council (following the conclusion of the examination. At this point Pendle Council is required to:
- consider and respond to each of the examiner's recommendations;
  - take a formal decision on whether the basic conditions set-out in the legislation have been satisfied; and
  - determine whether the plan is compatible with any Convention rights.
- 3.59 Pendle Council must then publish and publicise the outcome of these deliberations in a formal decision statement, before arranging and paying for a local referendum (Regulation 18). Ahead of the referendum councillors can play an important role by encouraging local people to vote in the referendum and making them aware of the key policies in the plan and their implications for the area in which they live.

Adoption

- 3.60 If ratified by the referendum (i.e. the plan is supported by more than 50% of those people who vote), Pendle Council must publicise the decision to make (formally adopt) the neighbourhood plan (Regulation 19) and bring it into force (Regulation 20).

Judicial Review

- 3.61 Any person may challenge the adoption of a Neighbourhood Plan if they do not think that it meets the conditions of the relevant legislation. Applications must be made to the High Court within six weeks of the date of the authority advertising that the plan has been adopted. You should get legal advice before starting this process.

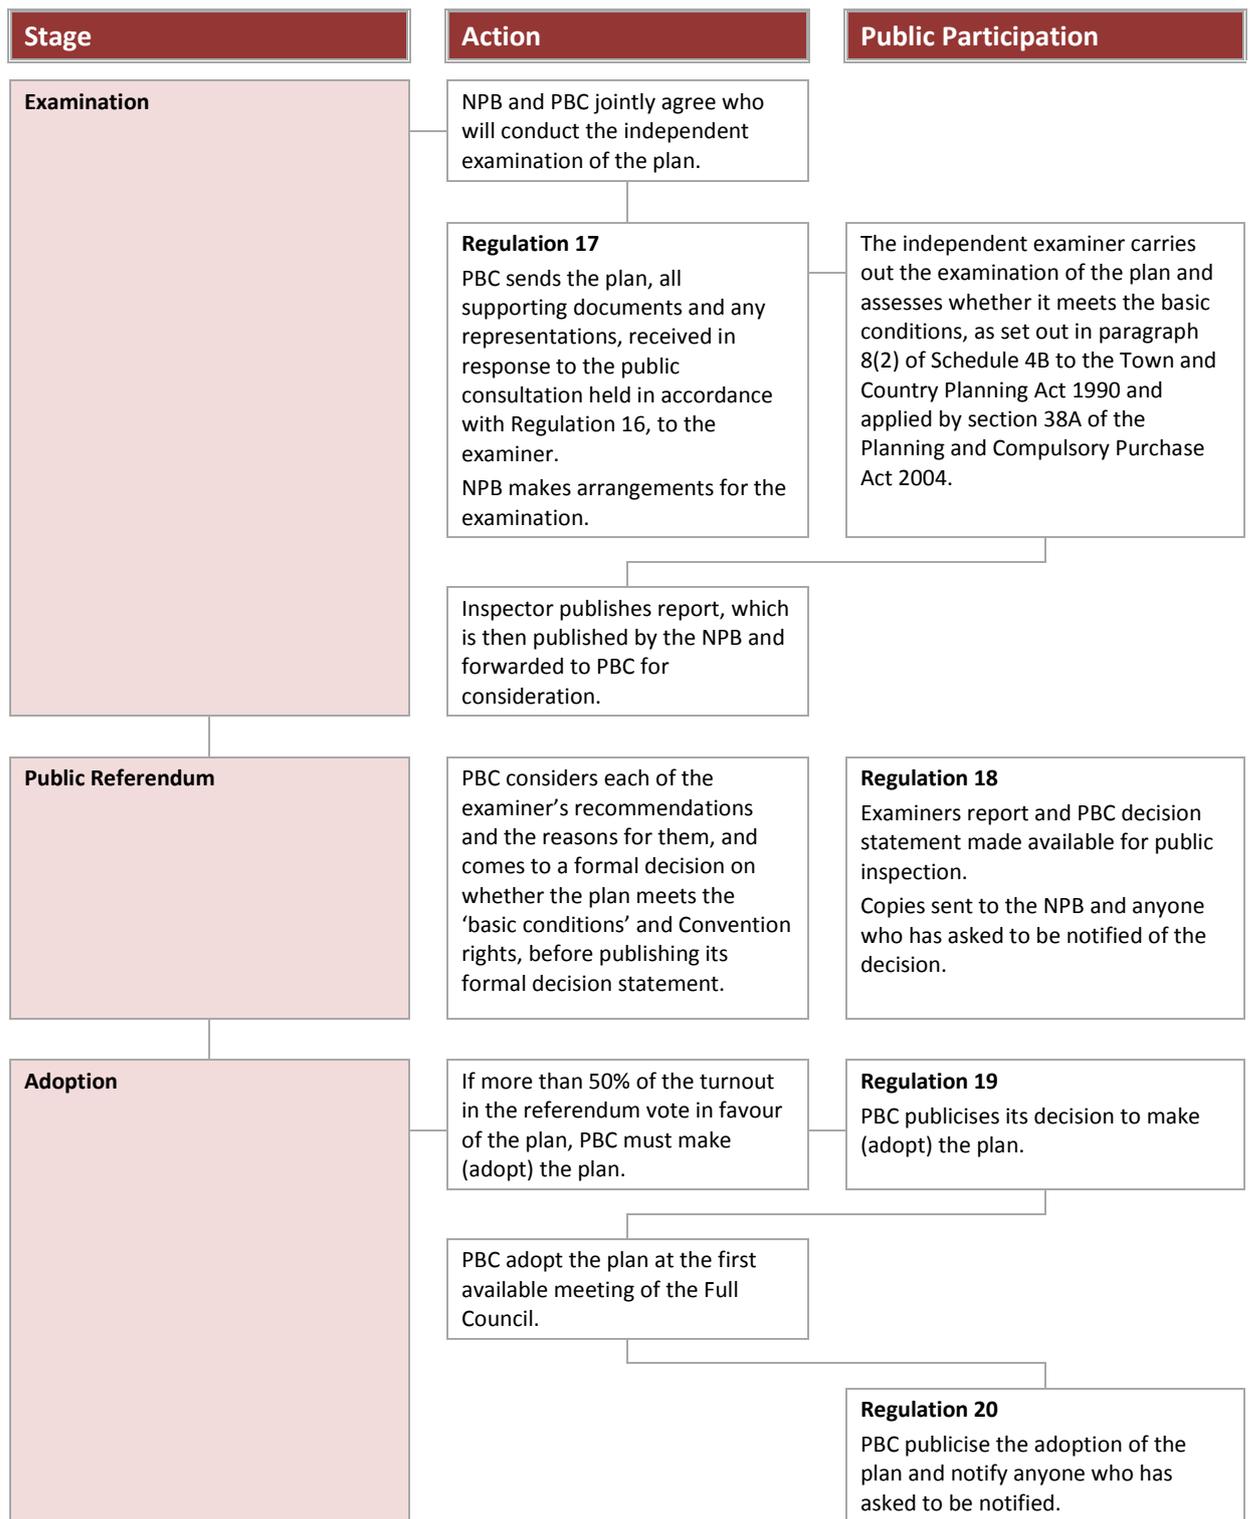

---

<sup>11</sup> The basic conditions are set out in paragraph 8(2) of Schedule 4B to the Town & Country Planning Act 1990.

How We Will Engage With You

- 3.62 Effective communication is the key to successful plan making. To demonstrate its commitment to community engagement and public consultation Pendle Council seeks to:
- involve the local community at an early stage;
  - provide everyone with equality of access to comprehensive, unbiased information; and
  - listen to people's views and provide feedback.
- 3.63 Pendle Council is committed to providing all members of our community with appropriate levels of access to information and advice. We believe that it is important to make public consultation arrangements as extensive as possible, to make sure that everyone has a chance to be heard.
- 3.64 It is clear that a 'one-size fits all' approach will not successfully engage all members of our diverse community. To ensure that the Council delivers the same quality of information to all its customers, we will seek to address the needs of those people who may have specific access requirements, which includes:
- black and minority ethnic communities;
  - young and elderly people;
  - people with a disability;
  - residents in rural areas; and
  - gypsy and traveller communities.
- 3.65 Engagement and consultation on the preparation of all planning policy documents is front-loaded, so that interested parties can influence a document from the outset. In these early stages stakeholder workshops and public exhibitions are widely used to enable interested parties to view what is being proposed and have a two-way, face-to-face conversation with the officers writing the document.
- 3.66 Inevitably in the later stages of document preparation there is less opportunity to change what has already been agreed. Anyone who has not been involved up to this point may experience a degree of frustration with the consultation process and question the effectiveness of earlier publicity. To help avoid this situation the Council carries out extensive pre-event publicity for all public consultations.

Advance Notification and Publicity

- 3.67 A wide range of techniques are used to notify, inform and consult with the local community in order to help secure their active participation in the planning process (Table 3.4).
- 3.68 Ahead of any public consultation contacts on the planning policy database (Appendix 1) each receive advance notification by letter and/or email. Organisations and members of the public are able to request that their details are added to, or removed from, the database at any time.
- 3.69 To attract the attention of those not on the Council's database a full colour advertisement is normally placed within the editorial section of the local paper. Public notices, which appear towards the back of the paper, may also be used where a considerable amount of information needs to be conveyed to the reader, or a particular planning regulation complied with.

- 3.70 An accompanying press release is also issued to the local media. If this is not used, the Council's Communications Team will follow up with a telephone call to the publishers to try to secure prominent coverage within the paper at the earliest opportunity. However, the Council does not have the final say on usage or positioning within the paper. Press releases are also issued to local radio stations and, when considered appropriate, regional TV news.
- 3.71 Posters and/or leaflets will be sent out for display at a selection of facilities well used by local residents and visitors to the area (Appendix 2). These include:
- parish council offices and notice boards
  - Pendle Leisure Trust facilities
  - business centres
  - health centre, doctor and dentist waiting rooms
  - council markets, supermarkets and village stores
  - secondary, primary and nursery schools
  - youth centres
  - places of worship
- 3.72 The Council's website is the primary source of information during any public consultation. All online documents and webpages contain active links to relevant webpages. An interactive banner on the homepage of the website will take casual visitors straight to pages carrying information about the current consultation.
- 3.73 In printed materials (e.g. leaflets, advertisements, newsletters, posters exhibition panels etc.) friendly web addresses (URLs) allow the reader to quickly find information on a relevant website using their mobile phone, tablet, laptop computer etc.
- 3.74 Messages on social media, follow-up emails, information on the Council's website and articles in our regular newsletter (Framework) are used to help maintain a high public profile throughout the consultation period.
- 3.75 Clearly publicising and articulating information on planning matters is an issue that we are constantly trying to improve upon. The methods we select will not only vary from group to group, but at different stages in the preparation of a Local Plan document. A matrix indicating the likelihood of their usage at different stages is provided in Appendix 3.

Availability of Consultation Documents

- 3.76 During a public consultation, all documents are made available to view or download from the Council's website.
- 3.77 Reference copies are also made available to view at the principal planning office and at twelve 'deposit' locations throughout the borough (Appendix 2).

Printed Materials

- 3.78 All documents conform to Pendle Council's adopted communication and equality guidelines which recommend:
- using a clear typeface;
  - employing a high contrast between text and background;
  - avoiding the use of italics and capitalisation; and
  - using even type spacing and unjustified text.

- 3.79 The Council promotes the use of plain English. Unfortunately, planning is awash with jargon, often requiring an extensive glossary to be included in documents that are made available to the public. Furthermore, each published document prominently displays a message on the front and/or back cover (see below) stating the Council's commitment to make documents available in other formats where appropriate. Where practicable this is supplemented with additional wording in Urdu, the principal language used by the borough's black and ethnic minority population.

- 3.80 An Executive Summary will be produced to help summarise a long report, where this is considered appropriate. Unfortunately, in most circumstances there no alternative to reading the appropriate section(s) of the main report to fully appreciate the full context of what is being proposed.

Public events

- 3.81 Where the issues to be considered are particularly complex, key stakeholders (including voluntary and community groups) are invited to attend workshops, where the various options can be explored in greater detail, with exhibitions used to convey the outcomes to members of the public.
- 3.82 Wherever possible we will hold public events in buildings that are fully compliant with the requirements of the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) 1995, to ensure accessibility for all. If we need to use facilities that are not DDA compliant, we will make any reasonable adjustments that are possible.

Other Mechanisms

- 3.83 Alternative methods of consultation may also be required to engage with 'hard-to-reach' groups such as the elderly; young adults, people with disabilities, rural residents, ethnic minority groups and the gypsy and traveller community (Table 3.5).

The Role of Councillors

- 3.84 Councillors are people elected to represent their local community in the running of their local council. Each councillor, depending on whether they are an elected member of a parish, town, district or county council, will perform a slightly different role.

County Councillor

- 3.85 Lancashire County Council is the minerals and waste, education and highways planning authority for the area. Any issues concerning these matters are best directed to one of the borough's six County Councillors, whose overriding duty is to the whole community of Lancashire, although they also have a special duty to their constituents.

Local (Ward) Councillor

- 3.86 Pendle Council is the local planning authority. It has 49 local councillors; each elected to represent the people within a specific area of the borough known as a ward.<sup>12</sup> Councillors will listen to residents' concerns on planning matters (policy or applications) at ward surgeries, public meetings and consultations.
- 3.87 Councillors also have a collective responsibility to consider the interests of the borough as a whole. Each service provided by Pendle Council is managed in their name, but individual councillors do not have the authority to make decisions on behalf of the entire council. Such decisions are taken collectively by a Council Committee. Those most relevant to planning policy are shown below.

Committee	Description
Executive	Comprises 10 senior councillors, each responsible for a particular portfolio within the Council (e.g. the planning portfolio). The Executive normally meets on the third Thursday of each month and is the primary forum in which the Council makes its decisions.
Council	Council meetings are held on a quarterly basis and attended by all councillors. Any policy document, approved by the Executive, must be ratified at Council, which is also responsible for the Council budget and constitutional matters.

- 3.88 Councillors can voice their support or opposition to a particular planning matter, on behalf of their residents, at a committee meeting. But, as members of a political party (or in their role as independents) councillors will also express political values and support the policies of the party to which they belong.
- 3.89 Protocols are in place to govern the way in which Councillors and Council Officers conduct their activities. These protocols ensure that any potential conflicts of interest are declared and resolved in a transparent way.

<sup>12</sup> There are 20 electoral wards in total in Pendle, represented by 1-3 councillors based on the size of the local population.

Parish / Town Councillor

- 3.90 The 19 Parish and Town Councils in Pendle (see Appendix 1) represent the lowest tier of local government and the area that they cover varies enormously in size. They are also made up of elected members and meet on a regular basis to address issues of local importance. Each Parish or Town Council has a seat on one of the Council's five Area Committees.

How We Will Provide Feedback

- 3.91 Following each formal public consultation, Pendle Council will publish a Consultation Statement, which will include:

- a description of the nature of the consultation and associated publicity;
- headline data summarising the response to the consultation;
- a description of the representations received; and
- a summary of the Council's response.

- 3.92 The Consultation Statement will normally be made available for comment during the public consultation on the next iteration of the DPD. Where this is not appropriate (i.e. due to time lag, stage in regulations etc.), it will be made available for public comment separately.

Summary

- 3.93 Successful engagement with the local community provides everyone with an opportunity to have their say. Helping to create a place where they will want to live and work, both now and in the future, increases their sense of belonging; improves community spirit; engenders civic pride; raises expectations and above all secures a commitment to the future of Pendle.

4. Consultation on Planning Applications

Introduction

- 4.1 As the local planning authority, Pendle Council is responsible for the management of development within the borough. Development is described in Section 55 of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as:

“The carrying out of building, engineering, mining or other operations in, on, over or under land, or the making of any material use in the use of any buildings or other land.”

- 4.2 Most people will only come into contact with the planning system when a decision needs to be taken about whether a development proposal in the area in which they live is considered to be acceptable. Locally, the majority of these decisions will be made by Pendle Council, as the local planning authority, although those concerned with waste disposal and minerals extraction are likely to be determined by Lancashire County Council.
- 4.3 The Government has made clear in the National Planning Policy Framework (NPPF) that it is committed to promoting a significant change in planning from a largely regulatory culture to one which offers positive encouragement to the proactive delivery of sustainable development.
- 4.4 The Development Management function, which is concerned with determining whether to grant planning permission, is designed to mediate any conflicts that exist in the interests of the whole community rather than those of individuals. In making such decisions, officers of the Council will refer to the Local Plan and any other relevant planning policy documents and guidance. This chapter briefly explains the consultation procedures followed in the determination of planning applications in Pendle.

Informal Advice and Assistance

- 4.5 If you are unsure whether your proposal will require you to submit a planning application, or you simply want some informal advice, information is available on the Development Management pages of the Council’s website.
- 4.6 The Planning Portal is the Government gateway to planning information. It is the first port of call for anyone wanting to find out about the planning system in England and Wales. It aims to be a one-stop-shop supplying answers, services and information to anyone involved in the planning process – from home owners and businesses to planning professionals and Government officials. As the planning system evolves and modernises, the Planning Portal will be there to guide all users through the process. The “Do You Need Permission?” page on the website (see link below) offers planning and building regulations guidance for many common building work projects. You can:
- Explore the Interactive House and Interactive Terrace for guidance on many common householder projects.
  - Use the Mini Guides or Common Projects links to find more detailed guidance on the building work you have in mind.
  - Check the Your Responsibilities section to find out about any other important matters you should think about before starting work.

 <http://www.planningportal.gov.uk/permission/>

- 4.7 Pendle Council also operates a Duty Officer system for general planning enquiries, which can provide advice and assistance on:
- planning queries;
  - householder development proposals for applicants or neighbours;
  - advising on procedures and process in the assessment of permitted development;
  - answers to technical planning questions;
  - completion of application forms;
  - validation requirements
  - fee charges;
  - interpretation of plans and drawings; and
  - validity of applications delivered to the reception.<sup>13</sup>
- 4.8 The Duty Officer will aim to answer your questions based on the information you provide, but his/her responses cannot be considered binding. Whilst the Duty Officer can provide general advice, formal responses/answers can only be provided in accordance with the Council's adopted process for permitted development or pre-application advice, where a written response will be provided following a full assessment of the proposal.
- 4.9 The Duty Officer is not able to comment on applications already within the system, as these will be dealt with by the officer dealing with the application

Planning Permission

- 4.10 All forms of development require planning permission, but not all development proposals will require the submission of a planning application, as some types of development are considered to have deemed permission (see below).

Permitted Development

- 4.11 The basic aim of permitted development rights is to exclude minor building works from planning controls. The General Permitted Development Order 2015 (GPDO) automatically grants planning permission for certain types of development, whilst The Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987 also allows certain changes of use of land or buildings without the need to apply for planning permission. Similarly the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 2007, grant deemed consent for certain types of advertisements.<sup>14</sup>
- 4.12 Permitted development rights can be amended, or new ones established, by changes in planning legislation. They can also be removed from a particular area or property – for example, in Conservation Areas special protection against certain types of development may be in place (Article 4 Directions) to help preserve the overall appearance of the historic environment, whilst particular buildings may be listed to help preserve their special architectural or historic interest.

<sup>14</sup> On the 12th October 2012, central government altered the regulations in relation to flag advertisements.

- 4.13 It is the responsibility of the applicant to determine whether permitted development rights exist, before commencing any development work without the benefit of a full planning approval. The Visual Guide for Householders, on the Planning Portal website, provides general advice on whether planning permission is required, but does not offer specific advice relating to individual properties.
- 4.14 To find out if a particular proposal requires planning permission, you will need to complete a Permitted Development Enquiry Form, and submit this to the Council, together with the appropriate fee.<sup>15</sup>
- 4.15 It is important to note that even where it is determined that a proposal does not require an application for planning permission to be submitted, it may still be necessary to apply for Building Regulations Approval.

Prior Notification and Prior Approval process

- 4.16 The GPDO also grants planning permission for some types of development, subject to prior notification. The most common example is for 'Larger Home Extensions', but the scope of prior notifications has been expanded significantly in recent years to address such matters as the conversion of office premises to dwellings, single-storey house extensions, barn conversions etc.
- 4.17 The Council will give the owners and occupiers of adjacent premises a specified amount of time to comment on any development proposal. If an objection is received the Council will need to consider the impact of the proposal. A development proposal is not permitted until written confirmation is received from the Council.

Planning Applications

- 4.18 There are two principal types of application for planning permission:
1. Full – these contain all the details relating to the proposed development, and
  2. Outline – these seek to establish the principle of a particular land use or building operation, but reserves the details for a later stage.<sup>16</sup>
- 4.19 Each planning application must include enough detail for the council to see what effect the development could have on the area.
- 4.20 Most planning applications are dealt with under delegated powers. Applications are only referred to, and determined by, Committee under the following circumstances:
- (a) the development is regarded as a major application;
  - (b) the application is 'called-in' by a councillor; or
  - (c) three or more objections are received to the proposal.

<sup>15</sup> The fee was £35.00 for the 2015/16 financial year.

Pre-Application Advice

- 4.21 Before submitting an application Pendle Council encourages all applicants to engage in pre-application discussions with its planning officers and a question on the application form will ask whether you have done. A small fee is charged for such meetings and the full schedule of charges can be found on the Council's website.
- 4.22 The focus for these meetings is to provide applicants with guidance relating to the information they will need to submit in order to allow for proper consideration of the application. It is an opportunity to identify and discuss the key issues and policies that the applicant should take into account when preparing their application. Pre-application advice is encouraged as it can:
- reduce the likelihood of submitting invalid applications;
  - help you to understand how planning policies and other requirements affect your proposals; and
  - help to confirm any local requirements.
- 4.23 Pre-application discussions with officers from the Development Management team are available on request to every applicant or agent. They can take place either at the Council's offices, or on-site.
- 4.24 At the meeting you should be fully prepared to describe your proposals and show plans and say why you think your proposed development should be allowed to go ahead. The level of preparation required depends on what is proposed. You may wish to consider:
- asking for an assessment of whether there seems a reasonable chance of getting permission;
  - discussing any problems associated with roads, footpaths, power cables, watercourses, sewers and telephone lines; or
  - asking about potential problems such as noise and traffic and whether the council might impose conditions to overcome these problems rather than refuse planning permission.
- 4.25 Because planning applications will normally be decided in accordance with the Development Plan you will need to justify any proposals which would constitute an exception to the plan.
- 4.26 At the time of the discussion the full extent of the consultation required and other matters relating to the application will be discussed. The advice given will be as accurate and objective as possible, based on the information provided, but will be informal reflecting the individual case officer's interpretation of planning policy and highway guidance. The advice given cannot be interpreted as being indicative of the outcome of the application.
- 4.27 Applicants may also write to the Council seeking advice and a response will normally be provided within 28 working days of receipt. For applications where advice from other bodies may be required (e.g. the Environment Agency, Historic England etc.) the timescales are likely to be longer. Where a screening opinion is required (i.e. a determination of whether a development should be subject to an Environmental Impact Assessment), this will be provided in accordance with the timescales set out in the regulations.<sup>17</sup>

Early Community Consultation

- 4.28 If a planning application is viewed to be potentially contentious, wider scale public consultation may be necessary before the planning application is submitted. The purpose of such consultation is to allow the developer to explain their initial ideas and obtain the views of the local community and stakeholders.
- 4.29 Such an approach is considered to be beneficial to all parties as it allows accurate information to be presented to the community. In addition, by making provision for amendments early in the process, the applicant may avoid the inconvenience of having to make substantial amendments to an application at a late stage in the process.
- 4.30 There are several ways that an applicant could seek to engage with the local community. Those commonly employed by developers, landowners or their agents, include:
- circulating leaflets to local residents, outlining the draft proposal and requesting feedback within a specified timescale; and
  - arranging meetings, or exhibitions, to be attended by the local community and/or local interest groups.
- 4.31 Where a public meeting or exhibition is to be held, Pendle Council highly recommends that serious consideration is given to the following:
- Publicity – adequate notice should be provided in advance and in an appropriate format.
  - Venue – the chosen location should ideally be located close to the proposed site and be fully accessible to all members of the community.
  - Timing – opening times should allow a wide cross section of the local community to attend at a time that is convenient to them, including evenings and weekends where appropriate.

Application Process

- 4.32 There are a number of steps a planning application must go through before it is determined. Planning applications will normally be decided in line with the statutory development plan for Pendle – unless there are very good reasons not to do so.

Application Form

4.33 All applications for planning consent must be submitted on a standard form. Applicants are encouraged to apply online via the Planning Portal website, which provides prompts on how to complete the form. From here the completed form is sent direct to Pendle Council. This online service can be used to complete applications for the following types of planning consent:

- planning permission
- lawful development certificates
- listed building consent
- planning permission for relevant demolition in a conservation area

4.34 You are under no obligation to use an agent or planning consultant. However if you are unfamiliar with the planning process, you may wish to consider appointing an agent or planning consultant to act on your behalf.

Validation

4.35 On receipt of a planning application, Pendle Council will check the application to determine whether it is complete. A valid application must include:

- information requested on the standard application form;
- mandatory national information requirements (i.e. the inclusion of a design and access statement, if one is required)
- information specified on the Council's local list; and
- the correct application fee.

4.36 If everything has been provided, the Council will validate the application as soon as is reasonably practicable. Most minor and small-scale applications will be validated within three to five working days of receipt. Major applications should be validated within ten working days. Once validated, the application is placed on the planning register (see below) and given a reference number. The Council will then start the determination process and provide the applicant/agent with notification to this effect in writing.

4.37 If a planning application is deemed invalid, the applicant will be notified in writing, unless the omissions can be addressed quickly and effectively via a telephone call or email. Only supporting information that is relevant, necessary and material to the application in question will be requested.

4.38 If an applicant/agent disagrees with a decision not to validate a planning application, on the basis that the information requested is unnecessary, they should follow this up with the Development Management team. Where the applicant is unable to resolve the dispute they should follow the procedure set out in Article 12 of The Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015.

4.39 If necessary an applicant/agent can, after the statutory time period for determining the application has expired, appeal against non-determination. In considering such an appeal the inspector will consider both the dispute regarding invalidity and the merits of the application itself.

Publishing Applications

- 4.40 Any planning application submitted to the Council, together with any associated drawings and supporting documentation, becomes a public document.
- 4.41 Local planning authorities are required by law to maintain a public register of all planning applications. This is available on the Council website and a weekly list is emailed to interested parties on request.<sup>18</sup>

Publicising Applications

- 4.42 Local planning authorities are required to carry out a formal period of public consultation, prior to determining the outcome of a planning application.<sup>19</sup>
- 4.43 All neighbouring properties are issued with a written notification. The letter or email will contain a description of the development; information on when and where the plans can be viewed and details of how to comment on the application.
- 4.44 Site notices are used in certain circumstances to advertise the fact that a planning application has been submitted to the Council for a property close to the location of the notice. The Council will always endeavour to ensure that the notice is posted close to the property or site, although in some cases this is not always possible. In such instances the notice will be posted at the nearest suitable location. The address of the site is always shown on the site notice to avoid confusion.
- 4.45 All applications, along with any maps, plans and supporting documents are available to view on the Council website.<sup>20</sup> Electronic copies of the documents relating to a current planning application can also be inspected at Number One Market Street in Nelson, during normal office hours. They can also be viewed at Council shops throughout Pendle, but it is advisable to telephone in advance to make an appointment and make sure the plans are available.
- 4.46 Parish and town councils are consulted electronically on all planning applications in their particular area. They will consider these applications at one of their regular parish meetings, which you will normally be able to attend by notifying the clerk of the council in advance.

Commenting on Applications

- 4.47 The question that crops up most often is “Does it matter what I think?” The answer is yes. The Council represents the whole community and it is helpful to know your views whether you support the proposal, object to it or merely wish to make a comment about it. But, the Council can only take into consideration those things that are relevant to planning and the application itself.

<sup>18</sup> Telephone numbers, email addresses and signatures will be redacted (blacked-out) before placing the application and supporting information on the Council’s website.

<sup>19</sup> This is prescribed in Article 13 of the Development Management Procedure Order and its amendment. There are separate arrangements for listed building and conservation area consent which are set out in Regulation 5 of the Listed Building and Conservation Area Regulations and its amendment.

<sup>20</sup> The law requires Pendle Council to provide copies of planning applications and related documents on request, but can make a reasonable charge to cover the cost of photocopying.

- 4.48 Anyone is entitled to comment on a planning application, even if they have not been notified directly. Representations should be submitted in writing to the Council by the appropriate deadline normally 21 days from the date of the notification letter, or the date of a press notice being published or a site notice appearing. Representations can be sent in by letter, fax or email; or submitted electronically using the online comments form. All representations are made public and the content is summarised in the report produced by the planning officer handling the application; frequently referred to as the case officer.
- 4.49 You can view any other comments that may have been submitted by going to the In My Area section on the homepage on the Council website. From here the 'planning applications' tab will take you to a form where you can enter the reference number for the planning application you are interested in.

Planning Aid

- 4.50 Planning Aid England is an organisation connected with the Royal Town Planning Institute (RTPI). Through its network of volunteers, all of whom are professional Chartered Town Planners, it provides free independent and impartial advice:
- Answering to questions people often ask about planning.
  - Offering clear, simple explanations of how the planning system works.
  - Signposting on where to go next.
- 4.51 Planning Aid cannot provide pre-application advice about a specific site or planning application – you will need to contact Pendle Council for this level of detailed information – nor does it provide free advice to other professionals (e.g. architects and surveyors)
- 4.52 The Advice Service operates 9.30am-4.30pm Monday-Friday and can be contacted via:
- Website: www.rtpi.org.uk/planning-aid/
  - Phone: 0330 123 9244 (at busy times you may be asked to leave a message)
  - Email: advice@planningaid.rtpi.org.uk

Planning Decisions

- 4.53 Pendle Council will seek to decide on your application within eight weeks. Large or complex applications may take longer, but your local planning office should be able to give you an idea about the likely timetable. If your application is not determined within eight weeks, you can appeal to the Planning Inspectorate.

Delegated Powers

- 4.54 The vast majority of decisions are made by the Planning, Building Control and Licensing Manager who has delegated powers to decide applications on behalf of the Council's elected members (councillors). The Scheme of Delegation to officers, including Development Management decisions is included in the Council's constitution, which is available on the Council website.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement in Planning 1st Revision

---

- 4.55 The case officer will write a report, which will recommend whether the application should be approved or refused. Where an application is approved, the report may also recommend that a number of conditions are attached to regulate the development or use of land, but these should only be imposed where they are:
1. necessary ;
  2. relevant to planning and;
  3. to the development to be permitted;
  4. enforceable;
  5. precise and;
  6. reasonable in all other respects.”<sup>21</sup>

Referral to Committee

- 4.56 Where necessary, planning applications will be referred to the relevant Area Committee (see below). If this committee cannot reach a decision, or their decision is deemed likely to see costs awarded against the Council on appeal, the application will be referred to the Council’s Development Management Committee.

Committee	Description
Area Committee	Pendle has five Area Committees, each having responsibility for the delivery of services within a particular part of the borough. Meetings are held on a monthly basis and attended by councillors representing the wards within the area, together with representatives from the local parish and town councils. Most planning applications are determined by an Area Committee. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Barrowford and Western Parishes</li><li>• Brierfield and Reedley</li><li>• Colne and District</li><li>• Nelson</li><li>• West Craven</li></ul>
Development Management	Specially trained councillors take decisions on major planning applications and those referred to it from Area Committees (particularly where an Area Committee wishes to make a decision which would be a significant departure from adopted planning policy, or where there would be a significant risk of costs being awarded against the Council in any appeal against the decision). The ‘DM Committee’ meets each month.

- 4.57 If an application is referred to a committee for decision, you will have the opportunity to speak at the committee meeting where the application is being considered, provided that you notify the Council of your intention to speak, by no later than 12:00 noon on the day of the meeting. Normally you will be allowed to speak for up to five minutes. If several people wish to speak the chairman may allocate a shorter time or, where a group of people wish to speak on the same subject, may ask one person to speak on behalf of the others. After speaking, members of the committee may ask questions to help clarify or confirm what you have said.

<sup>21</sup> This policy requirement is commonly referred to as the ‘six tests’.

- 4.58 Having exercised your right to speak, you are not allowed to join in any subsequent discussions, or to interrupt whilst members of the committee debate the application, even if you disagree with anything that is said. Once the matter has been debated, there will be a vote followed by a decision. On occasion the outcome of the vote will be to defer any decision to a later meeting, or to refer the issue to another committee. You will be advised accordingly.

Decision Notice

- 4.59 Notification of the decision is sent to the applicant or agent (if applicable), relevant Parish or Town Council, the County Council and any individual, body or organisation that commented in writing on the application. They are also published on the Council's website and can be viewed by going to the In My Area section on the homepage on the Council website. From here the 'planning applications' tab will take you to a form where you can enter the reference number for the planning application you are interested in.

Planning Appeals and Enforcement

- 4.60 In refusing a planning application, the Council will have carefully considered whether it has a sufficiently strong case, capable of being argued at appeal. The reasons for refusal will be clearly set-out, including those of elected members where their decision differs from that recommended by the case officer.
- 4.61 The reasons for refusal often form the basis for continued and constructive discussions between the Council and the applicant and may eventually mean that an agreement can be reached. This approach helps to avoid the need to appeal, although a new application is often be the best way to resolve matters.
- 4.62 Where an applicant intends to pursue their right to appeal against the Council's non-determination, or refusal, of planning permission, they should be confident at the time they make their appeal that they are able to make their full case.

Appeals

- 4.63 Only the person who submitted the planning application can make an appeal and this should ideally be done via the Planning Portal website.
- 4.64 Where an appellant wants to appeal more than one application (e.g. in relation to an application for planning permission and an application for listed building consent), they must submit a separate appeal for each. There are different time limits to make an appeal depending on the type of appeal and the circumstances.
- 4.65 When an appeal is submitted the Council will inform any persons who submitted a representation addressing the original application and all those who were consulted.
- 4.66 Nearly all appeals are determined by an independent inspector appointed by the Planning Inspectorate (PINS), with only a very small percentage being decided by the Secretary of State.
- 4.67 Once PINS has received an appeal and ensured that it is valid, it will confirm the procedure and notify the appellant and the local planning authority of the appeal start date (from which the date for receipt of documents and representations will be calculated), reference number, the timetable for the appeal and the specific address (room number and email address) to which any correspondence should be sent.

4.68 All parties should endeavour to meet the statutory timetables for the appeal process to ensure that no-one is disadvantaged and the appeal can be processed efficiently. Keeping to the timetables is fundamental to an efficient and fair appeals service. If a party does not behave reasonably they leave themselves open to having costs awarded against them, on the basis that their behaviour has directly caused another party to incur expenses that would not otherwise have been necessary.

4.69 The decision notice issued by the Inspector will be published on the Council website.

Enforcement

4.70 Where alleged breaches of planning control, or unauthorised development, is believed to have taken place, the Planning Enforcement Officer can be contacted for advice.

4.71 Any complaints must be submitted in writing, but they are treated in the strictest confidence and your personal details will not be made publicly available. Complainants are kept informed about progress and any decisions that the Council takes.

4.72 The Council has a wide range of enforcement powers available to help identify whether a breach of planning control has taken place, what harm has been caused as a result of the breach and how to remedy the situation. Enforcement action is not mandatory, and the Council will decide, based upon the details of each case, whether or not it is appropriate to take enforcement action.

4.73 Pendle Council aims to investigate all cases within ten working days of them being reported. The owner or occupier will be notified of the findings of the site visit, setting out details of any breach that appears to be taking place and what enforcement action the Council will consider.

4.74 In some cases the breach may be rectified, either by the retrospective submission of a planning application, or by negotiation. When this is not possible the Council may choose to take action by serving:

- an Enforcement Notice requiring that corrective action be taken within a specified period; or
- a Breach of Condition Notice when development has not been in accordance with the permission; or
- a Section 215 Notice requiring that steps be taken to tidy up an area of land or dilapidated building.

4.75 Pendle Council aims to investigate all cases within ten working days of them being reported. The owner or occupier will be notified of the findings of the site visit, setting out details of any breach that appears to be taking place and what enforcement action the Council will consider.

4.76 Failure to comply with an Enforcement notice can lead to prosecution, although an appeal can be made to the Planning Inspectorate.

5. Monitoring & Review

- 5.1 New legislation and regulations; changing customer expectations; reductions in staffing and new developments in technology are just some of the factors that require the effectiveness of the Council's programme of public consultation and stakeholder engagement to be kept under consideration.
- 5.2 A periodical review of the Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) will be carried out to ensure that the document remains up-to-date and is appropriate in the prevailing circumstances.
- 5.3 Monitoring will help to consider not only the outcomes of a public consultation exercise, but also the effectiveness of the process.
- 5.4 A future review of the SCI is likely to be triggered if:
- monitoring of consultation arrangements suggest the need for significant change;
  - the number of responses to a consultation exercise is significantly below expectations, particularly from hard to reach groups;
  - cuts in staffing or budgets mean that consultation and engagement above the minimum statutory requirements is no longer achievable; or
  - there are significant changes to relevant government legislation, policy and/or guidance.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement 1st Revision

Term / Common abbreviation		Brief Description <sup>22</sup>
Spatial planning	-	Spatial planning refers to the methods used by the public sector to influence the distribution of people and activities in a particular area. It goes beyond traditional land use planning, in that it brings together and integrates policies for the development and use of land with other policies and programmes which influence the nature of places and how they function. This will include policies which can impact on land use by influencing the demands on, or needs for, development, but which are not capable of being delivered solely or mainly through the granting or refusal of planning permission and which may be implemented by other means.
Specific consultation bodies		The Regulations require local planning authorities to consult each of the ‘specific consultation bodies’, to the extent that they consider that the proposed subject matter affects the body, in the preparation of documents that will form part of the Local Development Framework. The list of specific consultation bodies is identified in the regulations, but includes organisations such as major government departments and regional agencies, neighbouring local authorities, parish councils in and adjacent to the borough and infrastructure providers. Also refer to: General consultation bodies
Stakeholder	-	The term used to describe any organisation or individual that has a direct interest in, or is affected by, the actions or decisions of another individual or organisation.

It explains how people and organisations can get involved in the preparation of new planning policy and how they will be consulted on planning applications. The SCI is no longer subject to independent examination but is still part of a comprehensive approach to engagement.

Pendle Statement of Community Involvement 1st Revision

Term / Common abbreviation		Brief Description <sup>22</sup>

The directive aims to introduce a systematic assessment of the environmental effects of strategic planning and land use decisions. The environmental assessment requires: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the preparation of an environmental report;</li> <li>• the carrying out of consultations;</li> <li>• taking into account the environmental report and the results of the consultations in decision making;</li> <li>• the provision of information when a plan or programme is adopted; and</li> <li>• showing that the results of the environmental assessment have been taken into account.</li> </ul>
Statutory	-	Required by law (statute), usually through an Act of Parliament.
Sub-regional	-	The term used to describe any subdivision of a region, larger than a district authority. For example Lancashire and East Lancashire are both regarded as sub-regions within the North West of England.

Although SPDs go through public consultation procedures and sustainability appraisal , they are not subject to independent examination.

Sustainable Development	-	Various definitions of sustainable development have been put forward over the years, but that most often used is the Brundtland definition: enabling development that meets the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. The purpose of the planning system is to contribute to the achievement of sustainable development by helping to achieve a balance between the mutually dependent roles of economic growth, social advancement and environmental conservation.
