

Do you have any comments or ideas about how young people could have their say on local issues?
As above
Maybe creating a young persons forum which meets regularly to discuss issues for young people.
no
Recruit social media whiz kids to engage their peers with social media.
Role play. Children learn at an early age life skills eg. how to go shopping, how to wash up etc, I see this as just an extension of that. Offer encouragement and support, not push their ideas aside. How to continue contributing in the face of adversity or defeat.
Set up a Youth Parliament?
Social media - facebook feedback page
Social media?
Young people arent interested in traditional approaches and would likely get more involved with online methods
