1. Introduction

Purpose

- 1.1 The Pendle Settlement Sustainability Review [“the report”] forms part of the evidence base for the Pendle Local Plan 4th edition [“the Local Plan”]. The Local Plan will guide development in the borough over the period to 2040.
- 1.2 The report assesses the current sustainability of settlements in the borough. Its findings will help to establish a settlement hierarchy, which will guide the distribution of development Pendle.

Background

- 1.3 This report provides an up-to-date understanding of the sustainability of the borough’s settlements and their capacity for development. It represents a snapshot in time and cannot therefore reflect changes in service provision which occur after this date. Given the role of this report, Pendle Borough Council’s Sustainable Settlements Study adopted in November 2008 (see Appendix 2) has been used as a benchmark as appropriate. Significant departures from its methodology are justified where necessary.
- 1.4 The following settlements, 20 in total, are assessed through this review:
 - Barley
 - Barnoldswick
 - Barrowford
 - Blacko
 - Brierfield (including Reedley)
 - Colne
 - Crow Trees
 - Earby
 - Fence
 - Foulridge
 - Higham
 - Kelbrook
 - Laneshaw Bridge
 - Nelson
 - Newchurch-in-Pendle
 - Roughlee
 - Salterforth
 - Sough
 - Spen Brook
 - Trawden
- 1.5 The hamlets of Bracewell, Winewall and Wycoller are not reassessed through this report. This reflects the absence of settlement boundaries, lack of services, and rural characteristics of the settlements. The status of these settlements is not proposed to be altered through the Local Plan Fourth Revision taking these factors into account.

Document Structure

- 1.6 The document is structured as follows:
- Section 2: Methodology – Confirms the approach, data, assumptions, and limitations of the review.
 - Section 3: Results – Provides a summary and analysis of the results of the findings of this review. A full breakdown of the results of this review is provided in Appendix 2.
 - Section 4: Recommendations – Takes forward to the results and analysis of the review and applies these to recommendations regarding the composition and approach of the settlement hierarchy for the Local Plan.
 - Appendix 1: Assessment Summary Matrix
 - Appendix 2: Detailed Settlement Appraisal

2. Methodology

Approach

- 2.1 This review has taken the form of a desktop survey. It has been informed by data taken from a wide range of sources, updated where required. The main sources used include:
- Pendle Borough Council – Local Plan Part 1 Core Strategy Policies Map
 - Pendle Borough Council – Local Plan Part 2 Scoping Report
 - Pendle Borough Council – Open Space Audit 2019
 - Pendle Borough Council – Authority Monitoring Report and housing monitoring data
 - Burnley Bus Company – published timetables
 - Northern Rail – published timetables
 - Gov.uk website – Education facilities
 - NHS Choices website – Hospitals, GP Surgeries, Dentists, Pharmacies and Opticians
 - Lancashire County Council – MARIO online mapping
 - ONS Data
 - Google map data
- 2.2 Site visits have been carried out where necessary. Information of all data used for the assessment on a settlement by settlement basis is presented in Appendix 2.

Assessment

- 2.3 Table 2.1 lists and provides justification for the indicators used by the report to measure settlement sustainability. The table also sets out how these indicators relate proposed tiers of the settlement hierarchy, and adopts similar minimum thresholds to those used within the Council's 2008 assessment:
- A tick (✓) means it is essential for the service to be present within the settlement for it to be included within that tier of the settlement hierarchy.
 - 'Desirable' indicators are not necessary to meet the minimum threshold for each tier, but their presence may indicate an enhanced level of sustainability.
 - A cross (✗) shows that the indicator is not necessary for the specific tier of the settlement hierarchy.
- 2.4 Defined settlements which do not meet the minimum threshold required for Rural Service Centres will be designated as a Rural Village (the 4th and lowest tier).
- 2.5 The assessment has been prepared to support the delivery of the vision and objectives of the emerging Local Plan. There is an emphasis on ensuring that development is directed towards sustainable and accessible locations reducing the need for and reliance on travel by car. The criteria and thresholds applied for each tier of the settlement hierarchy reflect this by ensuring that a proportionate approach to development is over the plan period on account of a settlement's sustainability.

- 2.6 There is no set criteria as to what level of services there should be for a settlement to be included within a specific tier of the settlement hierarchy. The 2008 Assessment has been used as a benchmark, however the criteria used does not mirror this assessment. Professional judgement has been used to arrive at the criteria included in Table 2.1 overleaf.

Scoring of Sustainability

- 2.7 The presence of a particular service at and accessible to each settlement is scored (see Table 2.2). A higher total score generally indicates a greater level of accessibility; a key influence on sustainability. However, as indicated in Table 2.1, a specific range of services is necessary for a settlement to be included within one of the top three tiers of settlements.
- 2.8 The presence of multiple facilities in the same use and the role they have in supporting a larger population is recognised through the assessment. Settlements featuring more than one primary school, convenience store, supermarket or employment site are given a higher score (see Table 2.2 for further details).
- 2.9 There are instances, where services may be available and accessible to communities but located just outside of settlement boundaries. Peoples activities are not generally constrained by settlement boundaries however the quality and distance of the route to access them is a significant factor determining their accessibility. To account for this, the scoring considers distance to services from settlement boundaries.
- 2.10 Distances are measured in time as this is a more relatable measure. A 5 minute walk is considered to represent 400m for a broadly flat route. A 10 minute walk is considered to represent 800m for a broadly flat route. Where necessary topography is considered (only for locations outside of settlement boundaries). To calculate this, the Naismith Rule has been applied which assumes 1 minute extra for every 10 metres of ascent. This rule has been applied through the site assessment process ensuring a consistent approach to assessing accessibility through the Local Plan's evidence base.
- 2.11 The quality of public transport services is recognised as a major factor in influencing travel choices. A higher frequency of service is crucial in attracting trips which would otherwise be undertaken by car. Higher frequency services are therefore scored more highly than lower frequency services (see Table 2.2 for further details). This is consistent with those used through the site assessment process.
- 2.12 The retail function of a settlement is also considered as the range of shops and commercial outlets available within a settlement, reduces the need to travel by car, and creates the possibility of multi-purpose trips to be undertaken. The retail hierarchy has recently been reviewed through the Pendle Retail and Leisure Capacity Study (Lichfields, 2023). The draft retail hierarchy provides an accurate assessment of the role of each centre within Pendle. A town centre generally provides access to a wider range of shops, services and employment opportunities than a local shopping centre and so a higher score is assessed.
- 2.13 Access to employment is an important factor for sustainability. Providing local access to jobs helps to reduce the need to travel, relieving strain on infrastructure and limit greenhouse gas emissions. Employment sites included within the assessment reflect the strategic sites of the borough which are more likely to have a larger role for employment and benefit from policy protection. The assessment also recognises employment proposals includes the Lomeshaye Phase 2 Industrial site (a strategic scale allocation for employment) and Eden Works, Kelbrook and Sough which is proposed as a protected employment site through the emerging Local Plan. As set out above a settlement with access to multiple employment sites is scored higher.

Size of Settlements

- 2.14 The size of a settlement may provide indication of functionality and the potential of a place to accommodate further development. A smaller settlement is likely to have a more limited range of services and supporting infrastructure. Significant investment would be required to accommodate any major developments. Size also has a bearing on how a development proposal is likely to affect settlement character and the perceptions of both residents and visitors.
- 2.15 The size of settlements is assessed through three indicators: population, number of dwellings, and physical size (in hectares). The size of each settlement has been measured based on the area of land covered by the settlement boundary as currently depicted on the policies map.
- 2.16 To consider the population and dwellings within each settlement, data has been obtained at an Output Area level. Output Areas are census units typically comprised of between 300 and 500 people. Output Areas do not align to settlement boundaries and may over or under estimate population and dwellings in certain areas. Whilst not perfect, Output Areas represent the most detailed geography for census data and provide a good level of understanding of the characteristics of each area. Details of the output areas included for each settlement is set out in Figure 2.1. The resulting geography closely reflects those used for the 2008 Assessment.
- 2.17 At the time of writing data from the 2021 Census is not yet available at the Output Area level. It is therefore impossible to gain an up-to-date and accurate understanding of the number of people and dwellings within settlements at a sufficient level of detail to inform this assessment. To gain an understanding of population within each settlement data is taken from the 2020 population estimates using output area level boundaries.
- 2.18 To report the number of dwellings located within an area 2011 census data has been used and has been adjusted to consider net increases in housing stock recorded at each settlement over the period 2011/12 to 2019/20. 2019/20 has been selected as an end date to align with population data used.
- 2.19 A total score of 0-5 applied for the three assessed indicators. An average has been applied for population and dwelling indicators in recognition of the close relationship between these and to ensure that size is not given too significant weight through the assessment. The following thresholds are applied for scoring (a maximum score of 10 applies for the category):
- 25% or higher of the borough total = 5 points
 - 15% to 24.99% of the borough total = 4 points
 - 10% to 14.99% of the borough total = 3 points
 - 5% to 9.99% of the borough total = 2 points
 - 1% to 4.99% of the borough total = 1 point
 - Less than 1% of the borough total = 0 point

Clustering of Settlements

- 2.20 There are several settlements within Pendle which are closely related and feature shared services. Policy SDP2 of the Pendle Core Strategy defines Roughlee and Crow Trees as a single settlement despite falling into two separate boundary areas roughly 300m apart. The treatment by Policy SDP2 reflects the proximity of these two built up areas and inter reliance of the limited range of services available at these locations.
- 2.21 Newchurch-in-Pendle and Spen Brook are similarly characterised as a single settlement for monitoring purposes and was assessed as a single area through the 2008 Assessment. This approach is carried forward for the purpose of this report and the Pendle Local Plan Fourth Edition noting the settlements shared services and facilities, close proximity, and shared parish council area. Data within the census does not distinguish between Newchurch-in-Pendle and Spen Brook (as well as Roughlee and Crow Trees) and so examining the population of these settlements as separate locations is not possible.
- 2.22 The settlements of Kelbrook and Sough form a third example. The settlements sit within a single settlement boundary and form a single built up area. The settlements are within the same Parish Council area. The 'made' neighbourhood plan designated for the area does not adopt different policies for the settlements other than reference to Policy SDP2 of the Core Strategy.
- 2.23 Sough features a very range of limited services and facilities but is accessible by foot to services available within Kelbrook and nearby Earby. Its residents are able to access services located in these settlements. The treatment of Sough on a par with Kelbrook provides the opportunity to support services within Kelbrook from outside the village (consistent with NPPF, Paragraph 79). The limited range of facilities within Sough means that its inclusion as part of Kelbrook for the purpose of the assessment does not serve to skew the results to the degree where Kelbrook is elevated above the position in the hierarchy it would have otherwise occupied (though measures of size are inflated).

Limitations

- 2.24 The review does not take into account service capacity. Whilst the capacity of services influences their accessibility to residents and their quality, service quality is dynamic and can vary substantially during a plan period. Service capacity problems can arise due to changes in the population, migration patterns, the needs of residents and the availability of funding to expand capacity or improve service quality. Management and delivery processes can also have a significant bearing on service capacity and quality.
- 2.25 The review does not include an assessment of the availability land for development. The housing land available within each settlement is set out in the Strategic Housing Land Availability Assessment (SHLAA). Whilst the SHLAA provides a useful account of potential capacity, it has limitations. It represents a snapshot in time and does not account for those which have not been promoted by landowners to the site preparation process.
- 2.26 The review does not consider broader constraints to development, such as flood risk, natural or historic designations, or policy designations as they do not affect settlement functionality. These matters are taken account through the site allocation process.

3. Results

Analysis

- 3.1 Detailed results are reported in Appendix 2 on a settlement by settlement basis and summarised in Appendix 1.
- 3.2 Nelson and then Colne rather predictably, given their size and historical status, attract the highest scores through the assessment. Both settlements feature the greatest range of services, facilities, sources of employment and recreation, and best public transport connections of any settlement in the borough. The settlements score highly for duplicated services, highlighting the size of these settlements, their capacity to accommodate development, and the key role they fulfil for the borough and their wider hinterlands.
- 3.3 Nelson scores slightly higher than Colne, due to the presence of Nelson and Colne College (the only higher education facility within the borough) and Pendle Community Hospital (the only hospital) within the town, and greater number of employment sites. Colne generally has a stronger retailing offer than Nelson, both in terms of the vibrancy of its town centre, and presence of major retail outlets at Swinden Retail Park, Boundary Mill and the North Valley. There are also more secondary schools located in Colne than Nelson further demonstrating the close links between the settlements.
- 3.4 Barnoldswick is third and clearly functions as the principal settlement within the largely rural West Craven sub-area. It is a relatively compact and walkable settlement. The town offers a good variety of services, as well as providing sources of recreation and employment that serve both the settlement and the wider area. Transport connections are more limited than within the south but nevertheless provide opportunities to access neighbouring areas. There are numerous employment sites located in the town, though employment provision dominated by a small number of notable high-profile businesses.
- 3.5 The three towns of Brierfield, Barrowford and Earby perform a similar role and function. They operate as local hubs offering a smaller range of facilities and services (including shops, sources of employment and places for recreation) for a local population catchment and nearby rural areas.
- 3.6 Brierfield, located between the settlements of Nelson and Burnley, scores the highest of these three settlements, with some of its service provision integrated with its larger neighbours. Public transport scores highly because of this proximity and the presence of a railway station and presence of Mainline services along Burnley Road/ Colne Road. The settlement is also accessible to Burnley General Hospital. There is no supermarket or Post Office in Brierfield.
- 3.7 Barrowford benefits from its location close to Junction 13 on the M65 motorway and its accessibility to Colne and Nelson. Essential services are available for its population and its wider rural catchment with a focus on luxury goods and services. Barrowford is the location of the borough's strategic housing site designated through the Pendle Core Strategy to meet the needs of the wider M65 corridor. Nelson and Colne College, Victoria Park and Seedhill Athletic Ground are located at its boundaries.

- 3.8 Services in Earby are more limited than in Brierfield and Barrowford. The town is relatively close to Barnoldswick, and its residents rely upon some of its services (though is outside accessibility thresholds applied through the assessment). The town nevertheless features a good range of services, shops and employment opportunities to meet the needs of its residents and other nearby settlements.
- 3.9 The settlements of Trawden, Foulridge, Kelbrook and Sough, and Fence are assessed as being the most sustainable rural villages. Each settlement features a primary school, convenience store or other shops, a reasonably frequent bus service, community provision including a village hall and place of worship, and recreation provision.
- 3.10 Trawden, is the largest of the settlements outside the six towns. Its sustainability and vibrancy is the result of an active and organised community. The community run shop, pub, and community centre help to ensure that the village can maintain strongest level of service provision outside the six towns. The village features the only GP practice outside of the six towns and the M3 bus service provides reliable direct public transport connections to Colne, Nelson and Burnley.
- 3.11 Foulridge benefits from being on a public transport corridor which offers regular services to Colne, Nelson, Burnley, Barnoldswick and Skipton. The settlement has a range of shops (though no convenience store) and community facilities to serve and support its residents. The village school is located outside the settlement boundary but is a short walk from the settlement. A nursery is located adjacent to the school.
- 3.12 Kelbrook and Sough is notably smaller in population than Trawden, Fence or Foulridge, however nonetheless benefits from a good range of services and facilities. The villages feature the Eden Works employment area and benefits from strong public transport links along Barnoldswick Road and Colne Road. An explanation why, these settlements have been assessed together and not separately is provided within Paragraphs 2.22 and 2.23 of this report and so is not repeated here. Kelbrook features daily essential services including a primary school and shop at the Texaco garage. There is also a pub, church and village hall. Sports and recreational space is accessible in Sough Park.
- 3.13 Whilst Fence is only marginally smaller than Trawden it is supported by a more limited range of services. Service provision is in decline in the village, with the recent closure of the library. The bus service to Fence is more limited than settlements identified above but combines to provide an hourly service to Nelson. Fence is however the only settlement with a post office outside of the six towns. It has a shop, community centre and primary school. Fence will be accessible to Lomeshaye Phase 2 by foot/bicycle once developed.
- 3.14 All remaining settlements do not feature the minimum range of services required to feature within the third tier of settlements. They should therefore be considered as 'Rural Villages'.
- 3.15 Salterforth scores relatively highly through the assessment and is close behind Fence (and Kelbrook if measured on its own). The village is served by good transport connections and features a number of services within its boundary such as a village hall, primary school and pub. The village however does not feature a shop, and the nearest shops are located beyond an acceptable walking distance. Barnoldswick is located nearby to the village and features an extensive range of serves. The distance of these services from the village however encourages travel by car.

- 3.16 Laneshaw Bridge is one of the larger settlements in the rural area however features a very limited range of services and its residents are largely reliant on services located within Colne. A good bus service helps to provide options to access services by sustainable travel means, however the distance to these services means that the majority of people will choose to travel by car. The local primary school serves the village as well as people living within the East of Colne.

- 3.17 Whilst physically connected to Higherford and therefore the M65 urban area, the ribbon form and elevated location of Blacko means that it is largely isolated from the services provided within the urban area. The settlement itself is limited in size and the services available restricted in scale and variety. The bus service through Blacko is infrequent promoting travel by car.

- 3.18 Higham is a similar size to Salterforth, and despite being on the A6068 corridor, it is not served by good public transport connections. The settlement features relatively few services and facilities such as a shop, requiring travel to neighbouring settlements. Good access to the motorway and employment sites located further afield means that the settlement is popular with commuters.

- 3.19 The remaining settlements of Barley, Newchurch-in-Pendle and Spen Brook, Roughlee and Crow Trees are all found within the Forest of Bowland National Landscape. They are distinct in their rural character, and have few, if any, facilities and often infrequent bus service. Residents must travel by car to access essential daily services, employment opportunities, and formal recreation facilities. Road connections are of limited quality and do not have the capacity to support heavy usage.

- 3.20 Table 3.1 (overleaf) provides a summary of the results of this assessment by category.

4. Recommendations

- 4.1 The results of the review present a picture of settlement sustainability based on the current level of service availability and their accessibility by sustainable forms of travel. These results allow settlements to be categorised based on the variety and quality of services, indicating their role and their capacity to accommodate new development. Based on the findings of this review, it is considered that the four tiers of settlements defined through the Core Strategy remain valid and up to date.
- 4.2 To improve the accessibility of the Local Plan as a public document, the top tier of the hierarchy should be referred to as 'Main Towns'. The term is more meaningful to the general public and accurately reflects the role and functionality of the settlements forming this tier.
- 4.3 Table 4.1 sets out the recommendations as to where each settlement sits within each of the four categories identified above, based on service provision, access to employment, recreation, and public transport. Table 4.2 provides a breakdown of settlements and their recommended tier by spatial area.
- 4.4 Due to their close links and shared services, it is recommended that the villages of Kelbrook and Sough, Newchurch-in-Pende and Spen Brook, and Roughlee with Crow Trees are recognised as single settlements for the purpose of plan making and decision taking, and should be referred to collectively. Development taking place in one settlement will therefore meet the needs of the other.
