Dear Sir/Madam,

Last year the event continued after the designated cut off time. This involved very loud music, which kept us awake - it was still loud at 2am at least!

Friends of ours could hear the music beyond Lotherdale,

It was so loud that it felt like the walls made no difference. (It didn't help that the music was terrible - all heavy beats with no tune and we'd already been enduring it all day. This is not a normal music concert - it's the sort of music you might associate with class A drugs - you can only really appreciate it - I imagine if you yourself are also intoxicated. It is terrible music!

We don't object to the event but please can the music stop at bed time so we can get some sleep. We were woken last year about when the event would finish and didn't appreciate it.

Whilst the event isn't necessarily our cup of tea, we feel that no effort was made to engage with the neighbours and the offer of free tickets would have been a nice gesture. Perhaps this time as a courtesy to those who suffer the music from afar, free tickets could be offered so that we can at least go in and be nosey, maybe have a

Many thanks for considering my objection, on behalf of me and my husband.

Yours sincerely
