All people, including disabled and wheelchair users, would have access to the games space.

The improved games spaces can be used by children of the local community to increase physical activity and health. They can also be used by the children's parents/grand parents for some relaxation during this period.

Ofsted states that these areas allow children to enjoy being active and doing different activities. Not all schools have good quality MUGA facilities and outdoor spaces. By having access to a well-equipped MUGA we can encourage children to be active while learning new skills, have healthier lifestyles and better chances in life. These facilities create better outdoor environments

A well-resourced MUGA provides a boost to the community providing a rare place for children to play and adults to commute. It allows the children to have more fun.

All children suffer from some degree of boredom, however, children benefit from activities in the fresh air helping them focus their attention better, it Improves health and well being and the development of movement competencies.
